

Food Studies - MINOR

The interdisciplinary minor in Food Studies encourages students to explore the significance of food in history, religion, philosophy, literature, politics and more while also developing skills in food writing and presentation. Through diversified coursework, students synthesize and apply theories and concepts from many disciplines of food studies, deepening their understanding of food history and culture and enhancing their major field of studies in the process.

Food Studies

Minor

Choose five of the following: * 15

ENG3030	Food Writing
ENG3210	Food Media Presentation Skills
HIST2050	Food in World History
LIT3015	Food In Film And Literature
PSCI3300	Politics of Food, Human Security and Social Justice
REL3100	Food, Philosophy and Religion
SOC3020	Culture and Food

Total Credits 15.0

* Students are responsible for meeting prerequisites.

If a minor course is listed as a major course in a student's major program, the student must choose additional courses from an elective list to complete the minor. Please see the Minors, Specializations and Certificates page for additional information.